

SEMI-WEEKLY SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

TUESDAY, MAY 22, 1888.

W. A. WILGUS, Editor and Proprietor.
JNO. O. RUST, Associate Editor.
T. E. BARTLEY, Business Manager

Minneapolis has instructed for Grossman.

Buffalo Bill has returned from Europe with his wild west show.

The next General Presbyterian Assembly will be held at Chattanooga.

The Proceedings of the Lexington convention can be found on another page.

It cost $50,000 to settle Dr. Standiford's estate. It is rather costly for rich men to die.

The Mormons are going to organize a local congregation in Atlanta, a sort of Woman's suffrage move.

We predict that within three weeks from this time the railroad situation will be entirely changed.

We continue to hear nothing but the most flattering comments on Mose West's candidacy for sheriff. In the vernacular of the horse men "Wiley is on a long trot."

We have no objection to urge against the personnel of the State Central Committee, but we have yet to hear a single good reason why our conventions should be held in Lexington.

The "pennyroyal district" got there in the Convention. McKenzie and Hendricks does pretty well, and prove conclusively that whenever we all pull together we can get what we want.

When the Executive Committee meets at Madisonville it will have only one candidate to consider and it had better endorse him and go home. Hurrah for Ellis!

The selection of Mr. R. W. Henry as elector for this district was a happy choice. Mr. Henry is a competent speaker and will make the hills and valleys of the old second ring with the eternal principles of Democracy during the campaign.

The local option law of Michigan has been declared unconstitutional. After the defeat of prohibition in that state last year, the Legislature enacted a general local option law, under which out of some thirty or forty counties that voted on the subject all but three or four went dry.

Mr. W. E. Horlau, who was appointed Republican elector for this district, declines to serve. Mr. Horlau said the danger afar and retired to a place of safety. If the g. o. p. is short of oratorical material we can suggest our young friend John Feland as a suitable lamb for the slaughter.

The Hopkinsville South Kentuckian is a beauty, typographically and otherwise. The editor is filling its columns with choice and interesting matter, as he is capable of doing. — Bowling Green Democrat.

We can but be truly grateful for the kindness of our contemporary knowing as we do the soundness of his judgement and ability.

Reports continue to pour in of the popularity of Mose West, our candidate for Sheriff. He seems to be just the man to fill the public demands at this time. Already a number of influential Republicans, who condoning rule and are determined to stand it no longer, have pledged him their support, and the assurances of success come to him so frequently that defeat seems impossible.

It is rumored that Reuben A. Miller, of Breckinridge county, is to be appointed State Inspector and Examiner, the new office created by the Legislature. The duties of the Inspector are simply overwhelming. He is supervisor of all of our charity institutions, and has under his control the banking establishments of the State. He should be a physician, an expert on insanity, an accountant, a lawyer, a financier, an educator and everything else. If he is slightly off in any of these points he may seriously interfere with affairs and make his office a curse instead of a blessing. We have said it, and we say it again, that there is a man in Hopkinsville who can come as near filling this place as any man in the State, and the Governor will drop us a postal card we'll tell him his name.

The Elkhorn Progress voices the true state of the case in the following: "Mr. Jas. B. Camp, manager of the Festival, is being very severely criticized for the manner in which he treated the press in the assignment of seats. In many instances these gentlemen were so situated as not to be able to either see or hear the performance, and some who held season tickets, left after the first night and never went back. Mr. Camp owes his success largely in this instance to the press and be certainly could and should have made better provisions for them."

Of course Mr. Camp did not expect to have use for the press again soon, and consequently looked upon them as "far seeing" individuals, not taking it into consideration that they had given his local choice positions among reading matter, and that he could have been equally as considerate and given them in positions where field, glasses and telephones would have rendered valuable assistance.

ELLIS WITHOUT OPPOSITION.

[Henderson Journal.]

Numerous possible complications which might have, and threaten to exist in the Congressional race, have the appearance of having finally adjusted themselves, with a result entirely favorable to the candidate from Daviess county. Mr. Latson's last letter in reply to a petition from friends in the district asking him to enter the race is an emphatic reiteration of his previous assertions that he did not desire re-election and would not be a candidate again under any circumstances. Dr. Norian, after a survey from a home standpoint of the situation, of which he could form only an approximate judgement, while still in Frankfort, likewise declines to stand for Congressmen. Mr. McKenzie has wavered in his determination until his very decision has lost for him the remotest possibility of success, even if he subsequently becomes a candidate. But it is not believed that he will offer and many of his warmest supporters have pledged themselves to the remaining candidate on the track—Capt. W. T. Ellis, of Daviess county. Not only have many voters pledged themselves to Capt. Ellis, but nearly every paper in the district has asserted that it will advocate his claims against all and say new-comer. It looks as though he has won the race at the outset without having to display his mettle and staying qualities under the spur of opposition. The race must be regarded as made up, and while men can at any time be found willing, for the sake of an exciting contest, to entice some ambitious politician into the fight by arousing in him false hopes of success, the district as a whole is well pleased with the situation, recognizing as it does Daviess county's claims to pre-eminence and the peculiar fitness of her brilliant son to bear the Democratic banner. Capt. Ellis need groan himself now, not to fight for his individual battle, for his success in that is assured, but to train his battery of eloquence and logic upon the Republican camp, and insure a big Democratic victory at the coming Presidential election.

THE STRAIGHT OF IT.

In the reports of the convention at Lexington to the Courier-Journal Mr. J. D. Vance was placed in an unjust light before the public. Below is a correct statement pertaining to the action of that gentleman in the convention:

It was obviously fair for the convention to leave the headquarters of the committee for another term at Lexington, although it was apparent that from a large number of delegates there was a reluctance to assent to this; so when the Committee on Permanent Organization reported and named Lexington as the headquarters, and Mr. Vance as the chairman, Mr. Vance, of Henderson, in obedience to a demand from his end of the State, moved to substitute Louisville as the place, and John B. Castleman as the chairman of the Central Committee. The reception of this motion by the convention gave an unmistakable evidence of its popular favor. Mr. Castleman quickly obtained the recognition of the chair, and protested politely but firmly against the proposed change, declined to permit his name to be used in opposition to the committee's report, and explained that he had informed members of the committee that he could not accept the position, and exacted a promise from them that the Committee on Permanent Organization should not report his name, and appealed in behalf of the organization as the committee had agreed. With the explanation made, Mr. Vance withdrew his motion.

Reports continue to pour in of the popularity of Mose West, our candidate for Sheriff. He seems to be just the man to fill the public demands at this time. Already a number of influential Republicans, who condoning rule and are determined to stand it no longer, have pledged him their support, and the assurances of success come to him so frequently that defeat seems impossible.

The Cadiz Telephone, commenting on one of the New Era's railroad editorials, says: "If the building of the much desired road by the L. & N. Co. can be accomplished as our worthy neighbor seems to think, by the citizens of Hopkinsville and Cadiz, merely giving their consent, we oblige all to secure the consent of every man, woman and child in this burg. But our understanding down this way is that it requires money, and a good deal of it, to get one to do this. The people of high literary merit were read by Miss Nora Stark and Mrs. Rosa Bramham, and the addresses by McHenry Roader, of the Hartford Herald, and Prof. Itoark were strong and spirited appeals in behalf of education. The recitations by Miss Stark delighted the large audiences, and she was repeatedly encored. Prof. Dietrich, one of the most laborious and efficient district presidents in the State.

Gov. Buckner appointed as Railroad Commissioner, Hon. Ignatius A. Spalding, of Union county, for the First Superior Court district; Judge W. B. Fleming, of Louisville, for the Second district, and Hon. John T. Hager, of Ashland, for the third district. Mr. Spalding is the only one of the old board appointed. These gentlemen will now proceed to make tour of the state and hear complaints which it is not in their power to remedy, a kind of itinerant argument against Legislatures in general and the last one in particular.

The Toto defalcation grew as follows: January, 1880, $29,339.23; January, 1882, $58,972.20; January, 1884, $18,268.14; January, 1886, $99,27.50; March 20, 1888, $27,028.50. The decrease from 1880 to 1886 is to be accounted for in certain large checks paid directly to the Treasurer and for which he did not notify the Auditor in time to enter a charge against him before the settlement.

A special from Marion, says: The Town Trustees have ordered an election to be called for June 12 to vote for the proposition to issue $5,000 in bonds for the Princeton, Marion and Ohio River railroad. The proposal, it is claimed, will carry by a large majority. If it does, work will then immediately begin on the road at this place, toward the Ohio river at which point Mr. Parker, of the Cairo Short line, agrees to meet the road. The Ohio Valley railroad, running from Henderson to Princeton, will, it is claimed, extend their road to St. Louis in closer communication by rail with Nashville, Tenn., by at least sixty-five miles.

Judge Haggard, of Louisville, collected a fee of $20,000 and another of $10,000, the other day. He is barreling against the proverbial wolf.

The Elkhorn Progress voices the true state of the case in the following: "Mr. Jas. B. Camp, manager of the Festival, is being very severely criticized for the manner in which he treated the press in the assignment of seats. In many instances these gentlemen were so situated as not to be able to either see or hear the performance, and some who held season tickets, left after the first night and never went back. Mr. Camp owes his success largely in this instance to the press and be certainly could and should have made better provisions for them."

Of course Mr. Camp did not expect to have use for the press again soon, and consequently looked upon them as "far seeing" individuals, not taking it into consideration that they had given his local choice positions among reading matter, and that he could have been equally as considerate and given them in positions where field, glasses and telephones would have rendered valuable assistance.

THE MILL'S BILL.

[Henderson Journal.]

The great tariff debate has closed, one of the grandest fights against the robber barons on record. Kentucky was ably represented in the contest, as the speeches of Carlisle, Breckenridge and Stone will attest. In order that our readers may apprehend clearly the features of the Mills bill, we append the following synopsis of its provisions:

"The Mills bill proposes to cut off, in round numbers, $78,000,000 of the surplus revenue. Of this amount $15,000,000 is taken from the tariff and $23,000,000 from internal taxes on tobacco. It adds to the free list, flax, hemp, jute, salt, tin plate, wood and a few other articles. The present average rate of the tariff on dutiable goods is 47-10 per cent. The Mills bill would leave it at 40 per cent. The present average rate on articles affected by the bill is 54-16 per cent. The proposed rate would leave it on these articles at 43-36 per cent. The schedules of luxuries in the present tariff are left untouched. All the reductions are made on the essentials of manufacturers or the necessities of the people. If the champions of protected monopolies shall defeat this moderate revision they will see "tariff-smashing" in earnest next time."

TOBACCO NEWS.

Henderson, Illinois & Co., of Clarksville sold for week ending, May 17, 3000 hds. Good Leaf, from $14 75 to 10 00.

147 Hds. Low to Medium Leaf, 9 00 to 6 40.

49 Hds. Lugs, New and Old, 8 80 to 2 10.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

The market this week continued steady and strong on basis of fast week's improvement. In Burley, every thing above common lugs has been active and competition lively. Green Ilver styles are still quite popular, and are bringing generally satisfactory prices. In dark kinds the situation is about as stated last week. A slight speculation feeling occasionally shows itself in the more useful grades of regie goods, and is sustaining a very healthy tone for these kinds. The lower grades of dark tobacco, nondescript and trash, are still out of favor and neglected.

The continued reports through the country of failure of plant beds and devastation by bugs and cut worms, is having the effect of strengthening the views of holders, and perhaps makes them a little stiffer in their holding. This is indicated by the exceedingly light receipts and offerings.

Fairly good rains are reported during the week throughout Kentucky and Tennessee, affording a fair to a good setting season.—Horne Journal.

Going West.

The general interest that has been taken in the opening of the Mountain Indian reservations is shown by the large numbers of people who have already gone to Great Falls to investigate the mineral and agricultural resources of that wonderful country.

The low exorbitant rates announced by Col. H. W. Walker, Gen. Agent of the St. Louis, Mo. and San Joaquin & Colorado Railway, makes the expense of exploring this country merely nominal, and will undoubtedly result in a still larger number following.

EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.

The district Educational Convention met at Eddyville Friday night, Prof. C. H. Dietrich presiding. The exercises were of an unusually interesting character, but the teachers of the district failed to attend in large numbers. Great surprise was expressed at this negligence of county superintendents and teachers. Papers of high literary merit were read by Miss Nora Stark and Mrs. Rosa Bramham, and the addresses by McHenry Roader, of the Hartford Herald, and Prof. Itoark were strong and spirited appeals in behalf of education. The recitations by Miss Stark delighted the large audiences, and she was repeatedly encored. Prof. Dietrich, one of the most laborious and efficient district presidents in the State.

The young men went to the front in the Lexington convention, and a sprightly body of fellows it was. When the famous, battle-scarred veterans come to lay off the armor, it is pleasing to think that trained fighters with the full vigor of young manhood upon them will be ready to step into their places.

The man who had "M. H. Granahan" substituted on Tato's 1. O. U. list for his real name, has achieved more notoriety than if he had let the thing alone. When it becomes generally known who he is, he will be pointed at by the small boys as he passes by as a museum curiosity.

Reader, did you ever pause for a moment to consider the vast amount of reading matter you get in a single copy of the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN which costs you less than 2 cents a copy? If you have not, do so and we think you will be warranted in coming right along and contributing two dollars more for a yearly supply, to be given in broken doses, twice a week—Tuesdays and Fridays, and paper stopped when out, unless otherwise ordered. You actually get more local, editorial and general news than from any other paper published in this part of the State, and while our list is rapidly increasing, come forward if you are not already a subscriber, and let us enroll your name on it, thus adding to the mightiness of our number.

MILITARY MATTERS.

The Light Guards Off to Nashville—Other Notes.

The Latham Light Guards left for Nashville yesterday morning. They appeared yesterday in the grand military street pageant. It is not yet determined what day this will be. The Tobacco Leaf, in which several blows were passed before friends could interfere and separate the irate belligerents. The trouble, it is understood, grew out of the publication in the leaf, of a recent date, of an article condemning the conduct of certain Clarksville hotel proprietors in permitting their guests and waiters to cage in fighting each other in the dining-room. Through the aid of friends the matter has been satisfactorily settled.

The case of Ed Robinson's administrators, vs. the L. & N. railroad was decided in the Common Pleas Court, Thursday afternoon, by the jury giving a verdict of $1,000, in favor of the plaintiff. The attorneys, Messrs. H.
Stites and John Feland, and Harry Ferguson and J. W. McPherson, argued the case thoroughly. Judge McPherson's speech is spoken of
as a masterly argument, evincing learning of a high order and profound legal research. Judge Bush occupied the bench during the trial. The case will be appealed.

The Light Guards received their new white helmets, the gift of Mr.
John C. Latham, Sunday evening.
The helmets are of white cork with white fountain plumes tipped with blue and ornamented with gilt eagles and chin chains. The company's uniform is about the handsomest that will be seen in Nashville. During the encampment the boys will hear themselves and are accompanied by a cook, four waiters and a barber. Also they have a veritable mas-tette in the person of a youth of dark hue whom they will rub the wrong way for luck.

Sunday afternoon Company 11 2nd regiment of Dakota guards passed through the city enroute to Nashville.
With true northern enterprise they had their special car placarded with the prospective glories of Dakota.

New Hatching Process.

Prof. J. B. Fitzhugh's school at Church Hill, will be open on the 30th
for the following, and being a truthful character his statement is worthy of belief. He states that a few weeks ago he set a goose on thirteen eggs, in his garden, near a potato bed. In a few days after he set her, he examined
the eggs and found four missing.
A week or ten days later he found that four more had mysteriously disappeared. She continued to sit upon the remaining eggs and at the proper time hatched five goslings. The day after the hatching the potato bed was removed and about a foot undisturbed
the top of the manure the eight missing eggs were found. They were warm, and upon being removed to the house and laid upon the hearth near the fire, soon hatched out eight fine, healthy goslings which were immediately placed under the care of moller geese, increasing her flock to thirteen, or one for every egg set. It appears that a large rat had burrowed
a hole in the hot-bed and deposited the eggs at two different times therin, and was either killed or abandoned his new quarters without further molesting the eggs, and the heat from the bed proved a sufficient incubator.
As we before stated the veracity of the gentleman giving us the information is beyond question; so much so that those in doubt would be justifiable in trying the "new hatching process."
